

Granite Houses of Harcourt & Faraday

The Harcourt Heritage Committee has produced and published the outstanding publication Granite Houses of Harcourt and Faraday which has brought together the diverse histories and building technologies of this remarkable collection for the first time. The book is informative, visually rich and a comprehensive study of a unique aspect of the region's built heritage, which will serve as an invaluable resource for their ongoing conservation. Launched in 2015 the limited edition first print run has sold out, indicating a great need for the research.
