

L. Ward Carpentry

A miners cottage at risk of total collapse significantly located at the approach to Maldon has been skilfully saved by Luke Ward and his team. Luke's skill, experience and sensitive approach to the salvaged historic fabric and character of the house were intrinsic to the successful stabilisation and reconstruction of the cottage. His empathy and respect for the quirks of the cottage as well as his exceptional carpentry skills were demonstrated in the creative crafting required to retain the original coved ceilings. This project will serve as an excellent model for the conservation of miners cottages across the Shire.
